Carnegie Library.

The rule by which Mr. Andrew Carnegie gives money for libraries is $1,000 for every $100 that the town votes to raise each year. Norway raises $550 each year now, and that $550 can get a $5,500 library, providing a lot can be procured to build on. We need good roads and sewerage and there is no reason why we shouldn't have them with very little extra expense. C. C. Dearborn, Pleasant St., So. Paris, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and think so highly of them that I am perfectly willing to give my name as an endorsement of them. I only hope my statement will be the means of bringing relief to some one suffering as I have. For a long time I was made miserable by a pain in my back. My kidneys did not act in a proper manner and the secretions were very unnatural. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me a great deal. I am going to continue taking this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and no other.

Within comparatively few weeks the season will be upon us when there is great danger of the destruction of life and property from forest fires. At this time it is well to consider how great an enemy fire is to the forests. The whole country is discussing forest conservation and few indeed are the men who hold such discussions valueless. Every reasonable means for preserving forests is advocated by those who have become interested and not a little time has been devoted to consideration of ways and means to prevent wholesale forest destruction.

Freaks of Eyesight.

The Human Eye not Made to Look Upward.

Many eye defects, of course, are due to the bad habits of their possessors. Tobacco, for instance, is generally held to impair their vision, usually injuring the color-sense so that gold and silver become indistinguishable. According to some medical authorities, again, the connection between eye and tooth trouble is more than an old wife's fable.

In his book dealing with the subject, Hancock relates the story of a boy who woke up one morning to find himself blind. On examination, his teeth were discovered to be crowded together, and a few of them were removed; and the result that by evening he could distinguish between light and darkness. More teeth were removed, and the following day his sight was fully restored. Other cases which tend to show the connection between eye and tooth trouble have also been noted, very frequently occupation has much to do with one or other eye defects.

Thus, myopia is sometimes known as the miner's disease. Nystagmus is an involuntary oscillation of the eyeball to and fro or round in its orbit. In contadistinction to glaucoma, it is a young defect, having been noticed in infants, but sometimes it attacks middle-aged men. Miners are inclined to attribute the falling to the bad light, but it is more likely to be caused by the continual upward glance so often necessitated by their occupation.—[Strand Magazine.]

BUCKFIELD.
Sneaked Mountain.

Frank Records is working for Will Cooper of Norway. Flora E. Whitman has returned to her school in Farmington.

Ellis Whitman has bought him a new horse of the Andrews Bros., Norway. Mrs. Ambrose Swan and grandson, Arthur Sturtevant, have been visiting in Auburn.

EAST SWEDEN.
D. T. Adams and son Millard are making maple syrup. Fred Adams is working in the mill for Ned Fox at Lovell.

Marr & Adams have been trapping and caught a number of skunks. We expect business will be lively at the mill now. There are not as many cords of birch to saw as last year, but a large amount of long timber. Mr. Bisbee got his timber hauling job done except 3 or 4 thousand of peeled hemlock which they had to leave on account of bad roads.

A great many of the Maine dairymen appreciate the value of weighing the milk given by each cow daily, but some have not done this on account of a lack of suitable blanks for the record. The dairy division of the Maine Department of Agriculture has obtained a supply of blanks which will be furnished to Maine farmers without expense if the farmer will make a report at the end of the year of the monthly totals of the milk given by each cow in his herd. Application blanks will be sent on receipt of a postal card.

SWIFT'S ANIMAL FERTILIZERS

Active all the time.

Too Much Emphasis
cannot be laid upon the fact that the fertilizer nearest to nature, or nature's manure, will prove the most reliable and profitable. That is why Swift's Fertilizers are so much in demand—so satisfactory. They are crop producers as well as soil builders. They leave the soil in excellent condition for later use after first crops have been removed. For this reason they are active all the time. Be sure you use them.

Swift—Superior—Sure

"It gives me great pleasure to state that I raised one of the finest crops of corn on Swift's Fertilizer this season ever produced on World's End Farm. The yield was more than 35 bushels shelled corn per acre. Have used these fertilizers to my entire satisfaction the past ten years, and will use them extensively this coming season." (Signed) C. R. Goodhue, Supt., World's End Farm, Hingham, Mass.

"I have conducted an experiment with over 60 varieties of potatoes to ascertain the best yielder. Swift's Superior Fertilizer has given glorious results in spite of the driest season known in the century. Yield 400 bushels per acre of handsome salable potatoes. After many years' trial with different kinds, your fertilizer gives me the best results, and it conserves moisture even in periods of drought." (Signed) Rev. J. R. Lawrence, Hingham, Mass.

One of the vital demands upon you is to enrich the soil and maintain its fertility. To do this economically and successfully simply insist upon using Swift's Animal Fertilizers. They cost no more than others, and are swift, superior, sure. See local agent or write us. Free Pocket Memo Booklet containing valuable crop information on application.

Not a Drop of Alcohol

What is a "tonic"? A medicine that increases the strength or tone of the whole system. What is an "alterative"? A medicine that alters or changes unhealthy action to healthy action. Name the best "tonic and alterative"? Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. Ask your own doctor all about it. Never take a medicine doctors cannot endorse.

The Best Thing About a Bank

A bank which takes deep hold upon the confidence and respect of the people at large is by all odds the proper place for funds when safety is wanted.

Such an institution, and no othersort, is well prepared to weather any and every financial disturbance which may arise in the course of the years.

A bank's strongest advantage is at this point—without it, gold and time locks, stone, brick and big figures are all chaff and sawdust.

Be sure of your money by entrusting the keeping of it to such a bank. The facilities of this bank, of over 38 years' uninterrupted service, are at your disposal.

Mr. Bosworth commenced business the following May, 1895, and at the end of the present month would make him fifteen years in the grain business. He has always been respected by his patrons as a honest man to deal with, and very accommodating. He will be missed very much from the place.

The Principle Sensation.
The principal sensation of the week is the early arrival of spring weather, and the early days. The ponds are rapidly opening by the thawing of the ice, and the present week will witness the disappearance of the ice, judging the appearance at this writing, April 5th.
The society of birds is quite phenomenal, and makes us wonder where the old familiar bird friends are gone. It is, of course too early for some kinds, such as swallows, martins and bobolinks; but where are the song sparrows? Only a few robins have appeared and we have noted one solitary pair of pewees, which have returned to their cozy nest under the eaves of the house.

Our Highways.

The annual County Road meeting held by the State highway commissioners will be held at South Paris at the Court House, Thursday, April 14, at 10 o'clock a. m.

Last year the expenditure on account of State road work amounted to $278,000 and a total of 80 miles of road was reconstructed, and it is by far the best season's work in point of quality that has yet been done under the auspices of State aid. Indications this year are that an expenditure ranging between $400,000 and $450,000 will be made on State road, and it seems to me it is of the greatest importance that we should all have a thorough understanding of the specifications under which this work will be done. These county meetings afford us the one opportunity of the year for all getting together and considering these matters.

The Department is now ready to assist in the investigation and organization of boys' and girls' Agricultural clubs in Maine. The following is an exact copy of a letter received by a young lady who, after visiting for board and residence with a family musically inclined:

"Dear Miss—We think we can suit you with room and board, if you prefer to be where there is music; I play the violin, my wife the organ, my daughter the banjo, my son Henry the guitar and my other son Jim the flute and koronet; while all of us sing gospel hymns, in which we would be glad to have you take part. We play by ear, and when we all get started there is music in the air. Let us know if you want to come here to live."

How oft we trouble borrow,
And suffer mental pain,
Coveting clouds tomorrow,
While yet, no signs of rain,
Future gloom foreboding
At night on pillows toss,
In fear of overloading
The bridge we do not cross.

The Family Driving Horse.

The family driving horse should be selected to look to safety rather than to looks and speed. Of course it is desirable that the animal be a good looking and a good traveler as well as safe and gentle, but when it is not possible to obtain such a horse, it is best to select an animal that has a reputation for safety rather than a reputation for any of the other horse virtues but lacking the virtue of safety.

At the present time with steam and electric railway lines crossing every part of the country and automobiles racing along every country road, a horse that any member of a family can drive with perfect safety at any time and place is a rare article, and anyone owning such an animal can readily find buyers for it. It is not at all noted for good looks but having a reputation for being a family horse that anyone can drive, will usually bring a good price, should the owner be willing to let them go.

However, all owners of a good family horse should consider this point: Will it pay to dispose of the animal? Some one else and let my family either remain at home or else drive an animal that is not safe at all times? I think the answer to this question for many is that a safe family horse should not be for sale.

Women and children cannot safely drive a spirited, lively horse, nor an animal that takes fright at automobiles, steam or electric trains, etc. Many of these such animals, it is true, and they may go through life without ever having any serious accident but all are not so fortunate. Again many women and children are compelled to remain cooped up at home year after year, and are dating to any place unless there is a man along to do the driving.

If you already own a safe family horse, hold on to it by all means; if you do not own such an animal get one, if you can possibly spare the price.

"For years I have doctored for acute gastritis, but only rarely with any benefit, and had to be careful what I ate. But, thanks to Miona stomach tablets, I can now eat anything. Last Christmas, after partaking of a hearty turkey dinner, I was seized, with an attack of acute indigestion, and the doctor worked over me for hours before I got relief. He paid me eight visits before I could say I was well enough to sit up. But since then I have taken Miona tablets, and I have not been troubled since. Before using Miona I had attacks about every month."—Mrs. Ida Griffith, 1213 O St., Washington, D. C., July 5, 1909.

SOUTH WATERFORD.

Grange.

Bear Mountain Grange had a smaller attendance than usual on Saturday Mar. 26th, but the patrons were all bright and happy. One application for membership was received and referred. A letter was read by the secretary, from the S. S. Grange.

C. S. Stetson, communicating a copy of the resolutions unanimously adopted at the recent session of the National Grange and approved by the State Grange, favoring the establishment of a National health bureau or commission, and urging upon Congress the necessity for the immediate enactment of legislation for this purpose. On motion it was voted to endorse the resolutions of the National and State Granges, and that a committee be appointed by the chair to draft a set of resolutions agreeable to the recommendation of the State Master to be sent to our Congressman and the United States Senators for this state and to the local newspaper; and Brother Granville Fernald was appointed to serve as said Committee.

After a brief recess, Sister Belle Hapgood, lecturer protem, announced the following program of entertainment: Music by choir; reading by Sister Georgie Decker; classical reading by Brother Elias; unrepentable and untranslatable. Encore, vocal solo in the original Hotentot, very interesting.

The question for discussion was: How shall farmers increase the products of the farm to keep pace with the increase of population and the demand for food? It was spoken to by Brothers W. K. Hamlin, Saunders, Hapgood Decker and Fernald. One of the speakers advanced the plausible suggestion that a very good way to provide for the hungry millions is to raise more on the farm than is just needed, for our normal population. In other words, make the farm always produce a surplus above the necessities of the family. No debator dissented from that proposition, but several spoke up in favor of increase of the dairy and other products of the farm; also with regard to an economical management of the farm.

On motion it was voted that the next meeting be for all day, April 9.

Uncle's System.

How He Keeps His Wife's Vacation With in the Time Limit.

The man who had been married 20 years had the calm expression of untroubled life as he listened to the plaint of his nephew John. "She's been home with her folks more a two weeks now," John complained. "We haven't been married but two years, and this is the third visit she's made. I'm willing to have her go, but I want she should come home at the end of a fortnight." But if I write and beg her to hurry, she'll more'n likely stay a few days longer yet, just to show her independence."

"Mum! Did you ever know your aunt Mary to stay away longer'n we expected, whilst you lived with us?" asked this uncle.

"No," said John. "She usually came home a day sooner than she'd promised, I remember."

"M'm!" said his uncle. "Just so. Well, that was the result of my system. She's never known it, but I'll tell you as you seem to be in straits."

"Four or five days before time for her to come home I'd send a kind of a test piece to her. Sometimes 'twould be a remarking her if she'd heard the news about one or another. Sometimes 'twould be the news column, chopped off right in the most interesting place. Sometimes I'd refer to a letter I'd had, and not say what 'twas about. There's a lot of such things coming handy when you look for 'em."

"Well, soon as she could get a return mail to me she'd ask about the thing, and tell me to be sure and write more particalars next day. And somehow or other next day was always so busy I'd just have time for notes, or maybe a postal, saying, 'All well. No news.' And next day I wouldn't have time to write even that much."

"Twas always the day after that she came home; yes, sir, the morning of the day after."

"Now there's a chance for variety in my system. You've got to study the subject of the experiment, so to speak, and adapt the system, but you'll find it'll work, every time, 'less the girl you've got is different from any I ever saw."

How to Prevent Cold.

A physician tells us the following: A cold is the result of a stoppage somewhere of the free circulation of the blood, to which one is first sensitive through a chill. The chill is so slight at times that only the preliminary sneeze warns us that we are in the track of a cold.

One of the first things to do in this case is to inhale three or four deep breaths, expand the lungs to their full capacity holding every time the air as long as possible, then slowly letting it pass out through the nostrils. By doing this, the inflation of the lungs sets the heart into quickened action, and the blood driven with unusual force along its course, entering even the finest veins. This radiates a glow down to the toes and fingers, and sets up a quick reaction against the chill.

The whole effect is to stir the blood and set it in motion as if from rapid exercise. Try this method for cold feet and hands. Keep the blood in rapid action and use the deep-held breaths when the first chill is felt. Teach the children, also, to try this method.

If it were it can be done, it is very well and put on heavier clothing, but the main thing is to keep the life-current moving rapidly.

For cold feet on going to bed, this is better than an artificial foot warmer.

Purest Flour

"Of the various qualities of flour obtained from the same wheat, the lower grades are those most contaminated with grease, dirt, and objectionable bacteria; the freedom of flour from these, increases with its purity."

Prof. Wm. Jago, the well-known English chemist.

The purity of William Tell flour is due to the costly equipment and exceptional care to keep the grain and flour clean.

The wheat is stored in hermetically sealed tanks at the big mills of Ansted & Burk Co. Before grinding, it is cleaned six times.

Neither grain nor flour ever touches anything but the bright, clean surfaces of dust-proof machinery. Even the flour bags are sewed up by machinery.

William Tell comes to you from the mills with all the brilliant bloom that only Ohio wheat can make. Ask your dealer, and insist on having—

The Paint Problem

Better not buy a paint that you've got to buy more gallons of. Paint costs nothing; but gallons cost money. Gallons cost money three times over.

An Extra Gallon costs what you pay for it. That's once.

It costs as much more when you pay the painter for putting half of it on. That's twice.

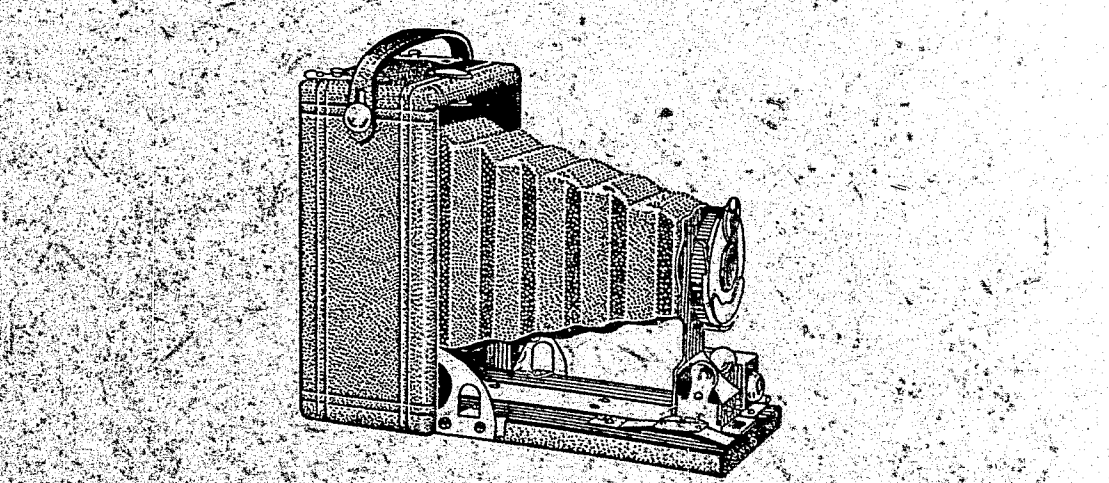

It costs the same when you pay him the other half. That's three times, and it isn't worth it.

The paint that takes less gallons and wears the longest is DEVOL. Sold only by
